Animal Control

Department Summary

Animal Protection & Control acts as a coordinating and facilitating agency for the resolution of animal related problems and community issues. The division is responsible for the enforcement of ordinances and state laws pertaining to animals, primarily domestic. These include licensing and vaccination requirements as well as stray animal, vicious, cruelty, livestock and nuisance provisions. The services of the Enforcement Program are provided seven days per week. Animal shelter services are provided through a contract with the SW Washington Humane Society. Animal Control provides administrative oversight of this agreement for the cities it provides animal control services. The City of Vancouver and Town of Yacolt have interlocal agreements with the County for animal control services. The City of Vancouver inter-local agreement consolidates all animal control programs within the agreement. An Animal Protection & Control Advisory Board provides for communication, coordination and public input into policy development. Through the advisory board process community projects have developed in cooperation with private organizations to address continuing community concerns. Some of these projects promote animal placement, responsible pet ownership, humane care of pets and livestock, dealing with aggressive animals. Special community event projects have developed to ensure the public awareness, and to provide incentives, to spay and neuter pets.

Beginning in 2012, the Humane Society for SW Washington and Clark County entered into a 1-year contract for services based upon a revised fee schedule. The revised fee increased from $69/day to $120/day and is scheduled to raise to $132.50 in 2013 and again to $145.00 in 2014. Given our historical volume, it is estimated this rate increases will result in an additional cost to APC of $125,000 for the 2013/2014 Biennium. This is in addition to the $150,000 increase to APC Budget at the beginning of 2012.

Since 2008, and in response to the economic circumstances, Building Safety has been operating with three plans examiners. Previously, Building Safety had 8 plan reviewers. The staffing was reduced to address budget and were considerably and arguably deeper than workload would warrant. Regardless of the workload or staffing, customers have an expectation that plan review times remain at 2008 timeframes. There is a need to meet the increased workload, do a more complete spectrum of work, and offer more complete services. In 2012, we have used both temporary positions and overtime to meet basic reduced service levels. This request will improve internal and external customer service by spreading the heavy workload out, allow for complete inspection services, and will take some pressure off of the staff to meet only minimum service levels for plan reviews.

Revenues in Building Safety have increased and funding is available through existing revenue and supported by forecasted revenues.
