County seeks community needs survey responses from residents

Vancouver, WA – Clark County Community Services is asking residents who are low-income to complete a survey about their family's needs. The survey, which can be completed online or on paper, will take approximately 12 minutes. It is strictly confidential.

The survey will be available from mid-July through Sept. 30.

An online English version is available at <http://goo.gl/forms/jCMSWCMQY2iqg1x42>.

Paper copies in English, Spanish and Russian are available from human services providers such as agencies that offer housing, food, clothing, health services and employment assistance.

If you are unable to obtain a paper copy from a service provider, please contact Rebecca Royce at (360) 397-2075 ext. 7863 or rebecca.royce@clark.wa.gov.

Community Services is required to conduct a needs survey every three years. The results are used to inform the county and Community Action Advisory Board about what services should be considered when prioritizing Community Services Block Grant awards.
