Why do children need 78 shots before they graduate? Watch the video Vaxxed. They are three of them. The first Vaxxed movie showed the mmr shot gave children autism, especially black boys.

Too Convenient Measles Outbreak?

Managing public outrage may manufacture vaccine demand

DR. SYED HAIDER

FEB 26

READ IN APP

Measles is back in the news with an outbreak in Texas, suspiciously just as RFK Jr gets confirmed as HHS secretary and vows to look deeply into the true safety and efficacy of vaccines like MMR, famous for stoking controversy around its suspected contribution to autism and other chronic disease epidemics.

But it's important to note that this supposed outbreak follows closely on the heels (about 10 days earlier) of a local measles vaccination drive.

Small, illegible text or header information.

Why is that important context?

Well, a false outbreak of measles could potentially occur right after an MMR vaccination drive due to testing limitations and misinterpretation of symptoms.

And before you object that it's inherently unlikely, it's actually happened before.

To understand how it's possible, let's look at several mechanisms that could contribute to a false outbreak:

1/3 Shedding of the Vaccine Strain

The MMR vaccine contains live, attenuated (weakened) viruses, and in some cases, individuals briefly shed the vaccine-strain measles virus (typically in saliva or respiratory secretions).

Standard PCR tests detect measles RNA (the genetic code of the virus) but do not always differentiate between wild-type, infectious strain of measles (a real outbreak) and vaccine-strain measles (false outbreak triggered by vaccine drive).

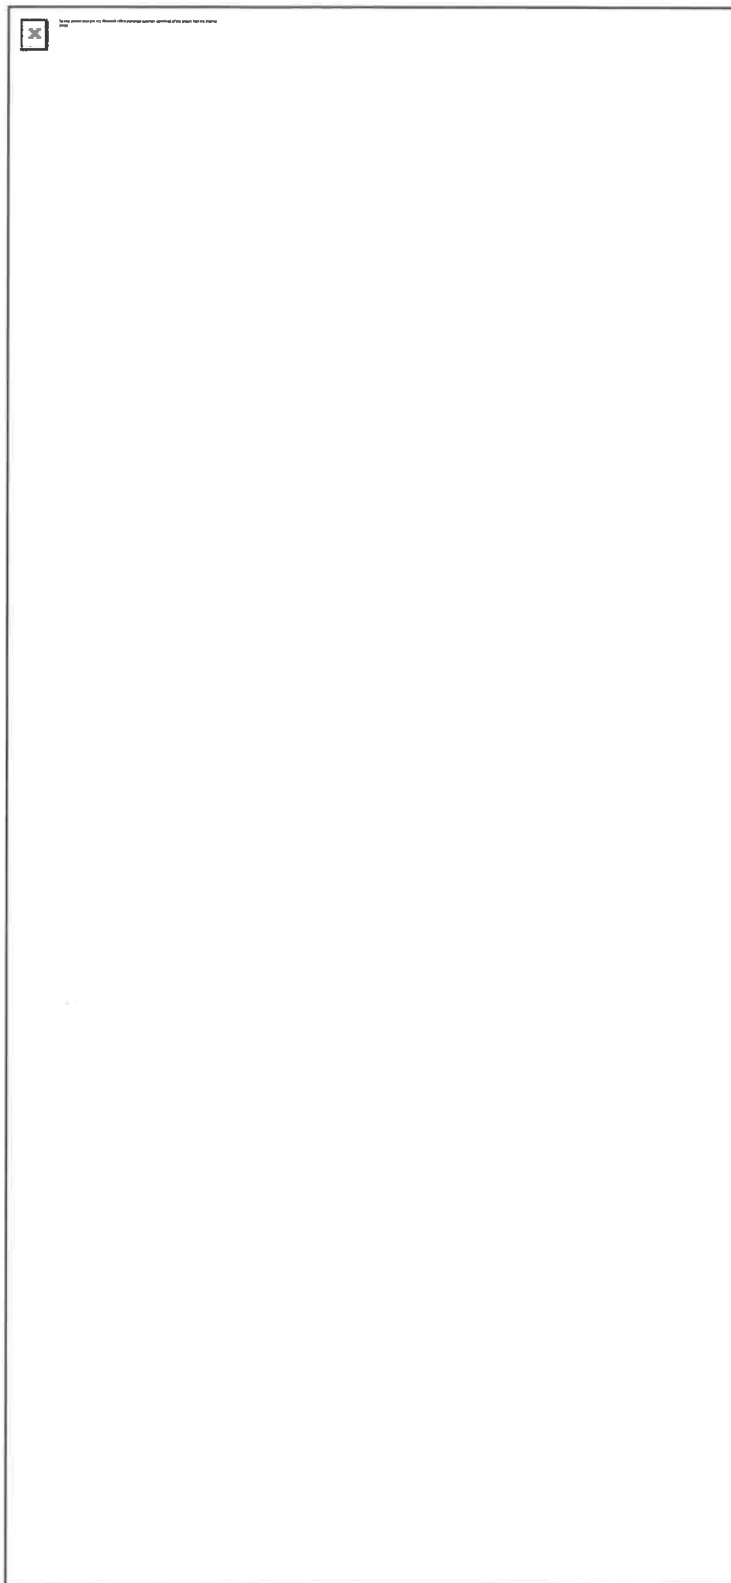

If a recently vaccinated person tests positive, it could be due to residual vaccine virus, not a real infection.

Genotyping is required to distinguish between vaccine-strain and wild-type measles, but this is not always done immediately.

Key points:

1. Vaccine-strain measles virus has been detected in throat swabs and urine post-vaccination.
2. This does not cause transmission of disease in healthy individuals, but in some cases, it has been mistaken for a real measles outbreak.

2/3 Increased Surveillance & False Positives

After a vaccine drive, health authorities may monitor for measles cases more closely using serological tests, which are different than diagnostic PCR tests. Serology tests the immune system response to viruses or vaccines.

This can lead to:

False positive serology tests: Recently vaccinated individuals develop IgM antibodies, which can be mistaken for response to a wild-type measles infection since the serological tests aren't specific enough to tell the difference between immune response to the vaccine or the wild-type virus.

3/3 Overreporting

Overreporting of measles-like symptoms that are actually vaccine reactions or unrelated viral illnesses:

Some people (especially children) develop mild measles-like symptoms after vaccination (after all the vaccine has a weakened version of Measles, so it can have weakened effects in healthy individuals or even full blown effects in weakened individuals. Common effects seen in healthy vaccinated people include::

- Low-grade fever
- Mild rash (5–12 days post-vaccination)
- General malaise

These vaccine reactions are not contagious, but if misreported or misdiagnosed, they could be mistaken for an outbreak, especially when combined with shedding of the attenuated virus from the shots.

Thanks for reading Dr. Syed Haider! This post is public so feel free to share it.

Share

Historical Precedents

Cases of false measles outbreaks due to MMR vaccine shedding have been reported in the past, including instances where PCR tests detected the vaccine strain and were initially misinterpreted as an outbreak.

Genotyping eventually confirmed that these were not wild-type measles cases.

However, we all know that the followup reporting is ignored by the media and all anyone in the public remembers is the initial hyped-up measles media scare cycle.

To summarize:

A measles vaccination drive can create the illusion of an outbreak if:

1. Recently vaccinated individuals shed the vaccine-strain virus, triggering PCR positives.
2. Serological tests show false positives due to recent vaccination.

3. Neither PCR nor serological testing usually differentiates vaccine-strain from wild-type virus.
4. Mild vaccine reactions (rash, fever) are mistaken for wild-type measles cases.

To avoid confusion, genotyping of PCR-positive cases and careful clinical assessment are needed to distinguish between vaccine-related findings and a real outbreak, but what if the point is not to find the truth, but to create panic and foment a backlash to RFK's appointment as HHS secretary?

To begin to answer that maybe you need to start by asking yourself another question: do you believe in convenient coincidences?

Encontrará información en Español después de este mensaje en Inglés.

The Washington State Board of Health (Board), working with the Department of Health, adopted an emergency update to chapter 246-290 WAC. These rules help keep drinking water safe. The updated rules go into effect February 19, 2025, and will stay for 120 days.

The proposed rule changes in English and Spanish are on the Board's webpage or the Department's webpage. You can read more in the attached CR-103E form. This form announces the rules.

This change ensures that federal maximum contaminant levels (MCLs) replace state action levels (SALs) when the MCLs are effective, not when they are adopted. This is necessary because the effective date for new federal MCLs is not until 2029, but the adoption date is June 25, 2024. The rule change ensures current protections for the public stay in place until the effective date.

This is the third emergency filing, following the initial filing of June 24, 2024. The Board is investigating a long-term solution while this emergency rule is in effect.

For more information on these rules contact Ashley Noble, 360-236-4110, at the State Board of Health, or Mike Means, 360-236-3178 and Kseniya Efremova, 360-236-3449 at the state Department of Health.

To request this document in an alternative format or a different language, or if you would like to request meeting accommodations, please contact the State Board of Health at 360-236-4110 or by email at wsboh@sboh.wa.gov.

La Mesa Directiva de Salud del Estado de Washington (Mesa Directiva), en asociación con el Departamento de Salud del Estado de Washington, adoptaron una actualización de emergencia de la sección 246-290 del WAC \(por su sigla en inglés, Código Administrativo de Washington\) \(en inglés\). Esta normativa ayuda a que el agua potable siga siendo segura. La actualización de la normativa entrará en vigencia el 19 de febrero de 2025 por un plazo de 120 días.

Las modificaciones propuestas para la normativa están disponibles en inglés y español en la página web de la Mesa Directiva \(en inglés\) y en la página web del Departamento \(en inglés\). Puede obtener más información en el formulario CR-103E adjunto \(en inglés\). En este se anuncia la normativa.

Esta modificación garantiza que los niveles máximos de contaminante (MCL, por su sigla en inglés) federales prevalecerán sobre los niveles de acción estatal (SAL, por su sigla en inglés) una vez que los MCL entren en vigencia, no cuando se haga efectiva su adopción. Esto es necesario porque la fecha de entrada en vigencia de los nuevos MCL federales es recién en 2029, pero la fecha de adopción es el 25 de junio de 2024. La modificación de la normativa garantiza que las protecciones actuales para el público sigan aplicándose hasta la fecha de entrada en vigencia.

Esta es la tercera interpuesta de emergencia, luego de la presentación inicial del 24 de junio de 2024. Mientras esta normativa de emergencia se aplica, la Mesa Directiva investiga una solución a largo plazo.

Para obtener más información sobre esta normativa, póngase en contacto con Ashley Noble, 360-236-4110, de la Mesa Directiva de Salud del Estado o con Mike Means, al 360-236-3178 y Kseniya Efremova, al 360-236-3449, del Departamento de Salud del Estado de Washington.

Para solicitar este documento en un formato alternativo o un idioma diferente, o si desea solicitar adaptaciones para la reunión, llame a la Mesa Directiva de Salud Estatal al 360-236-4110 o envíe un correo electrónico a wsboh@sboh.wa.gov

Hello Rebecca.

I am a resident and I was wondering during how I might go about suggesting to the city council or planning committee to provide pre approved ADU plans to help streamline the ADU approval process. Portland and Salem do this for a few years. It would help with the housing demand, help people with aging parents and expand the property tax base for the county. Thanks in advance for any help you can provide.

A Test to Stop Fentanyl Deaths

What if a fast, simple, sensitive, and inexpensive test for fentanyl contamination was widely available?

ROBERT W MALONE MD, MS

MAR 9

For Americans age 18-45, the leading cause of death is fentanyl overdose. This addictive drug is responsible for 100,000 deaths per year. Fentanyl is 50 times stronger than heroin and 100 times stronger than morphine.

Over 400 US deaths per day on average due to Fentanyl. Probably many more than that, because there are rare days per day that equals the peak of the claimed deaths from COVID during the worst days of that outbreak.

Little or nothing that government or law enforcement has been able to do seems to make a dent in the problem. Coming across the southern border. Being imported in small packages shipped from China.

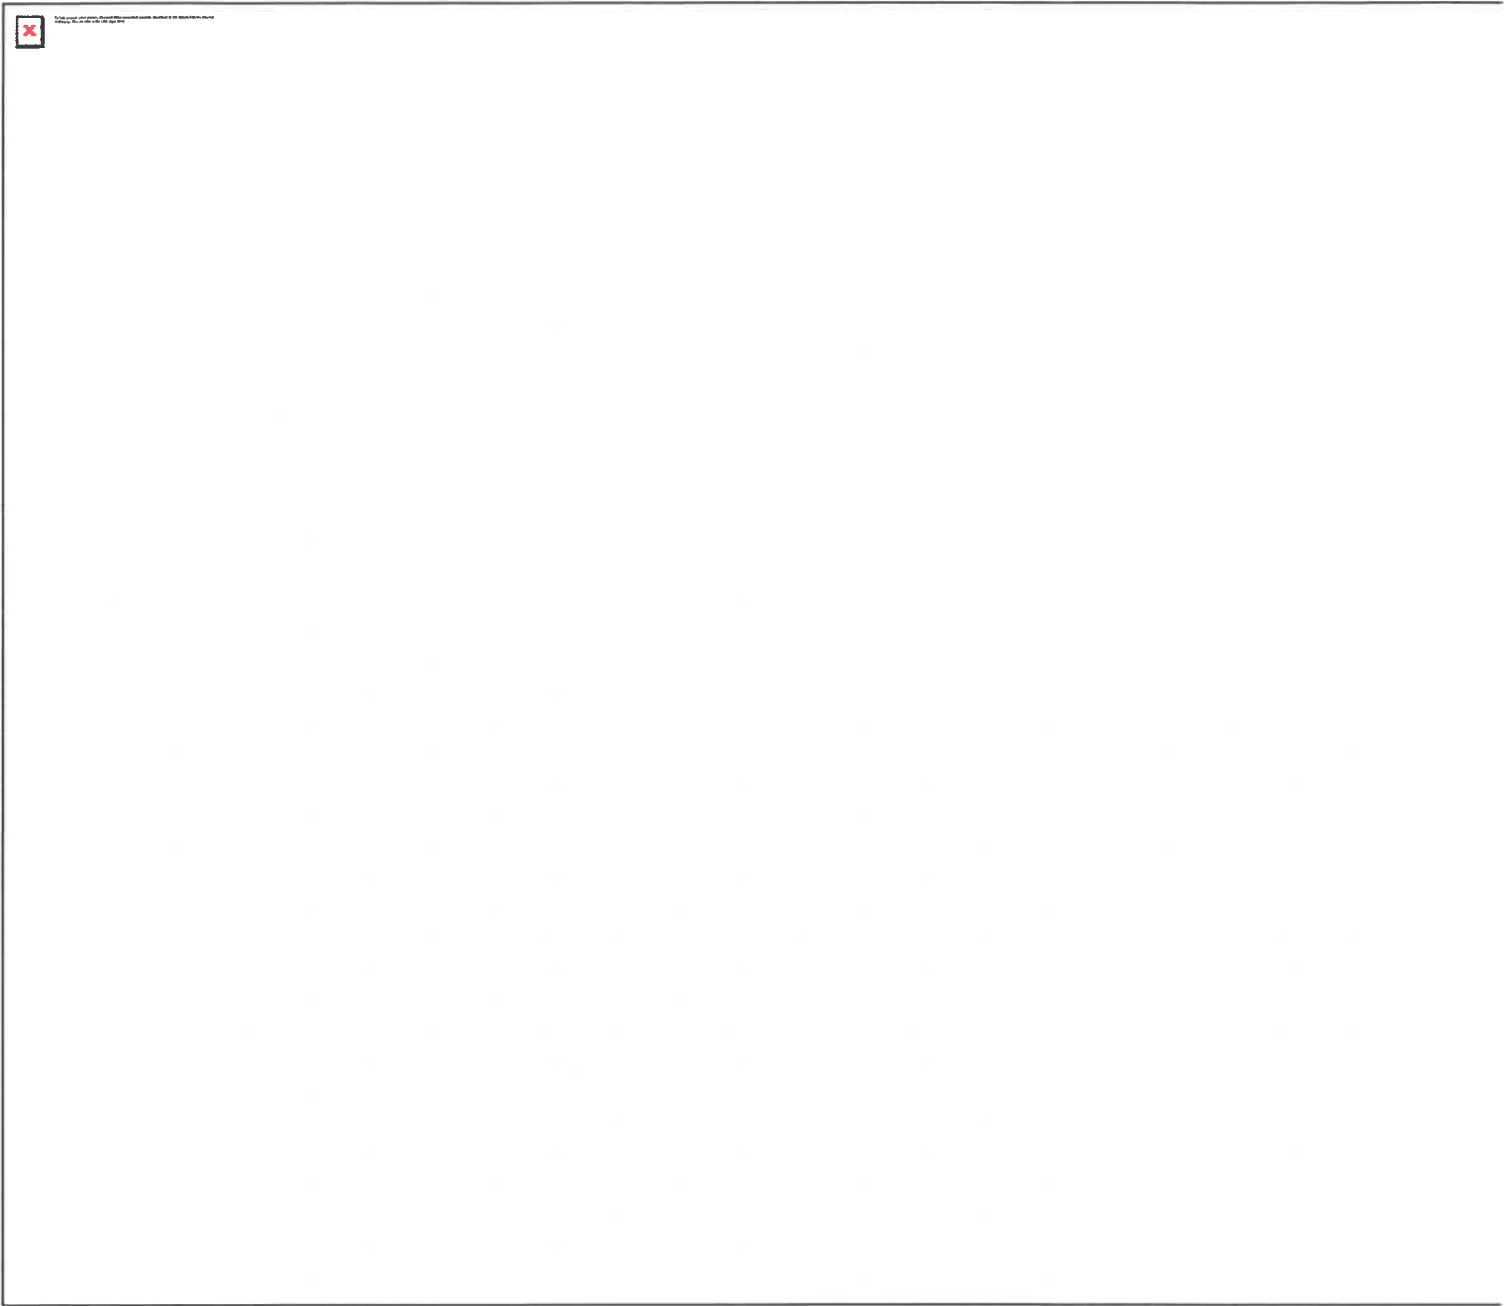

The vast majority of those Fentanyl deaths are poisonings, not deaths due to intentional Fentanyl use. Virtually all being sold as something else such as methamphetamine (meth). Marijuana is often adulterated with fentanyl. Possessing 1 gram or less of Fentanyl or a Fentanyl compound is only a Level 1 drug misdemeanor in the State of Texas. Not enough Fentanyl to kill 500 people. A mere misdemeanor.

Fentanyl is incredibly potent, and incredibly toxic. The amount of fentanyl needed to cover the date on a penny is

We first wrote about the Fentanyl crisis in October 2022.

Well Being: The #1 Killer in the USA, Ages 18-45

ROBERT W MALONE MD, MS · OCTOBER 6, 2022

Fentanyl is number one killer in the USA for most age cohorts. Unfortunately, the CDC doesn't track deaths in that they don't really "know", because "overdose deaths are spread out across four different death categories

Read full story

The other day, I was contacted by Mr. J.C. Sheppard, a young American entrepreneur, who has taken some companies, and used that to create a new company designed to address the Fentanyl crisis. He told me the story of his journey. No big Pharmaceutical or diagnostic company. Just a committed private party deciding to do what he felt was right.

While working on a healthcare Information technology project, J.C. had been thunderstruck by seeing health care professionals on a daily basis, and decided to do something about it. He had a simple idea. What if there were a highly sensitive, simple, and low cost?

And so he set about to make it so. And he succeeded.

The idea was based on the observation that almost all Fentanyl deaths are accidental poisonings. Not intentional overdoses, and getting something that was laced with Fentanyl or only contained Fentanyl.

He set aside issues of shaming and judgement, and just focused on the problem. What if those people could be able to know beforehand that they had unwittingly purchased something that could kill them and their friends?

So he created The Fentanyl Test. It is not a Tesla. It is not a reusable SpaceX rocket booster. He did not create a complex test. American ingenuity at its best, prompted by a desire to solve a common problem afflicting the people.

A test sort of like the SARS-CoV-2 protein tests that the US Government shipped to so many of us during COVID-19. Sensitive to as little as one nanogram of Fentanyl. Remember that I told you that 2 milligrams of Fentanyl is enough to kill someone. Sensitive it can reliably detect one nanogram of Fentanyl. That is some test.

The world's best Fentanyl Testing kit.

99+ % accurate to 1ng cut-off level fentanyl tests w/ 5-minute results

The ONLY harm reduction fentanyl test in the world at a 1ng/mL cut-off, with 5-minute results. NO DILUTION REQUIRED.

The Fentanyl Test is the world's first FDA-cleared urine dip-card test that is CLIA-waived for at-home over the counter use.

Follow this link to learn more details about the test.

J.C. knew about me, and about the social media and substack reach that I have developed over the last four years to medical students for many years. Knew that people had come to trust me because of the honesty and transparency I make people more aware of the test that he had developed, and to help him distribute the test all across America.

As most of those that read this substack or listen to my various broadcasts know, I do not gift, and from time to time I sell nutraceuticals or supplements. But after listening to J.C., and looking into what he had created with The Fenta, I would do what I could to help him sell as many of these test kits as possible. Because I think that this is something that

I hope that you will share my enthusiasm, and will share this post with other people in your life that might benefit from it.

Subject Good news

A sign of some progress appeared in yesterday's Wall Street Journal under the headline, "Utah to Become First State to Ban Fluoride in Public Water." I will admit I was a doubter but I have become convinced.

[OBJ]

While Florida became the first state last year to recommend against county-level fluoridation, Utah is taking it one toothier step. Last week, Utah Governor Spencer Cox (R) said he will sign a bill banning fluoride from public water systems. "It's got to be a really high bar for me if we're going to require people to be medicated by their government," Governor Cox told ABC4-Utah.

In other words— medical freedom.

Half of Utah already does not fluoridate their public drinking water. Governor Cox said dentists in those counties reported no higher levels of tooth decay than dentists in fluoridated counties. Grocery shelves are flooded with fluoridated toothpaste for anyone who wants it. So why force everyone to drink the chemical, which is not meant to be drunk anyway?

Last September, U.S. District Judge Edward Chen issued an 80-page ruling finding that the evidence — based on 72 different studies — supported a conclusion that fluoride was possibly a neurotoxin associated with IQ loss in children. The EPA, corporate media, and dental associations reflexively dismissed the finding as another conspiracy theory and have never looked back. Please send to council members and MELNICK. Hey Wynn,

Imagine this: they are creating new mRNA vaxxes to fix the damage caused by the old mRNA vaxxes...

Yet official gvmt data has now shown how DANGEROUS these vaxxes are.

New data shows that kidney failure deaths are sharply increasing among people who received COVID mRNA vaxxes.

Statistics expert John Beaudoin found that since the mRNA vaxxes were widely introduced in early 2021...

The United States has seen around 155,000 more deaths due to kidney failure than expected.

Beaudoin's findings align with those of another expert, Ed Dowd...

Who used CDC data to estimate over 153,000 additional deaths due to acute kidney injury (AKI) in recent years.

Before the vaxx rollout...

Deaths from AKI had stayed steady for years, but in 2021...

They suddenly rose by 200% and climbed even higher in 2022 to 300% above normal levels.

Beaudoin also said that while cases of COVID-19 dropped to very low levels in 2022...

And President Joe Biden announced that the "p@ndemic" was "over" in September 2022....

Deaths from kidney failure kept rising in 2023.

He said...

“There are more life years lost to acute renal failure alone than COVID, than polio, than smallpox ... than anything in the past 100 years in the United States, except for World War II.”

When he said this, my heart shattered because of the elites...

It will probably take losing a loved one to know just how serious this is.
